Raiders Honored At Lions' Dinner

Members of the Appomattox County High School football team were honored by the Appomattox Lions Club with a dinner Thursday night at the Parkway Restaurant.

Guest speaker John Gordon, of the University of Virginia Student Aid Foundation (and radio broadcaster for Cavalier athletic events) told the prospective college footballers that grades and religion are just as important to athletes as a good physical fitness program.

"When Brooks Robinson put on the greatest one man performance in the history of the World Series," said the former "Voice of the Orioles". He said, 'I thank God for the opportunity He gave me to let me perform this way'. Of all the things Brooks could have said about his feats, he realized that without God, he was just another athlete."

Gordon, a native of Illinois, is an active member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. Gordon also emphasized the need for scholastic achievement, saying, "At the University of Virginia a student who can not excel in the classroom will not be given the chanc. o excel on the athletic field. We want student athletes, not just athletes."

Head coach Jerry Robinson awarded letters and certificates to the gridders prior to Gordon's address.

The Lion's club presented the Best Back Award to Willie Lipford while the Times-Virginian Award for the Best Lineman went to Warren Coleman. Mike Ramsey received the Most Improved Player Award from the Appomattox Jaycees and Mike Quinn was awarded the Best Blocker trophy and the Sportsmanship Award.

The Appomattox Lions annually host the grid team following the season.

Editor of the Times Virginian:

The A.C.H.S. Varsity Football season is over, the joy and satisfaction of winning, the sting of defeat, the recognition, the banquet and the awards.

For the many hours of dedication and hard work from the coaching staff, thank you! Coach Robinson and his staff have done a fine job with our team. They have taught the game well, and taught that emotion is no substitute for skill and good sportsmanship. Each member of the team has had the training and opportunity to develop his potential skills, then to use those skills in a team effort.

Coaches Robinson, Blanton and Morris not only deserve recognition as good coaches on the field but also as outstanding men who have helped our youth develop positive attitudes, self-dicipline, and character. These traits enhance academic achievement and are a valuable asset throughout life.

I consider my son fortunate to have played under these dedicated and capable men.

Sincerely
Anne L. Ramsey

Raiderettes Regain Winning Form

Appomattox County's girls basketball team regained the winning form displayed over the past 10 years as they gained a pair of victories in Seminole District action last week.

Friday night Maryjane Smith tossed in 34 points to pace a 59-32 win over Staunton River. Connie Murry added nine markers while Cindy Smith chipped in seven points. Jane Stanley led the rebounding with nine.

Saturday night was more of the same as Maryjane Smith scored 25 points and pulled down 14 rebounds to lead the Raiderettes in their 48-30 home opening win over Gretna.

Cindy Smith had 11 points and Carla Lipford added eight for Appomattox.

Marsha Woodford led Staunton River with 14 points while teammate Cindy Daives contributed 10 for Golden Hens. Gretna was paced by Cindy Bird with 12 points and Goldie Hutter with eight.

The two victories improves the Raiderettes season record to 2-1. Appomattox will play Altavista (0-3) Friday night at home.

In the Staunton River game Appomattox was successful on only 37 per cent of its shots from the floor, but even colder shooting by the Golden Hens (24 per cent) allowed the Raiderettes to run up a 26-12 halftime score and go on to their first win of the season.

The offense got rolling in the Gretna contest as the Raiderettes canned an even 50 per cent of their floor shots while Gretna was canning only 30 per cent of its shots.
